To support these activities, Nayya will ask for information about you and the company for which you work. To register for certain products and services, you may be required to provide sensitive information. The information you provide will be used to support your relationship with Nayya.

To fulfill a particular request, the information you provide may be shared within the Nayya family of businesses. Nayya screens all third parties that receive such information and reviews the intended use of the data before providing any information to them. These parties include companies such as software and hardware vendors and other information providers.

Nayya may also provide aggregated information, such as the number of visitors to the site or the results of a survey, with our partners and third parties to develop suggestions to improve our website accessibility and the services provided on the site. Aggregated data is not linked to any personally identifiable information.

Technologies

Nayya uses technologies to help us understand which parts of our websites are visited most often and understand traffic patterns on pages.

Cookies: This site uses cookies to tailor web content to match your browser capability. You can set your Internet browser to notify you when you receive a cookie, giving you the chance to decide whether or not to accept it. If you reject the cookie, you may still use this site, but you may be limited in the functionality of some areas.

Sensors: To determine your ability to receive HTML-based email messages, Nayya may include a coded sensor in its HTML-based email messages. The sensor activates when the e-mail message is opened and flags the email address of the recipient as one that is capable of receiving HTML-based email messages. This capability helps us to send the email in a format you can read, which allows us to track the aggregate number of emails read and to measure, in aggregate, if any of the links in the email were accessed. If the recipient cannot receive HTML emails, the recipient will not receive a functioning sensor.

Log Files: We use IP addresses to analyze trends, administer the site, track users' activities and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use in improving the site and its applications and services. Do Not Track Signals: This website does not recognize browser "do-not-track" signals or similar mechanisms.

Do Not Track Signals: This website does not recognize browser "do-not-track" signals or similar mechanisms.

Unsubscribe or opt out

Nayya offers you the opportunity to opt out of receiving promotional email, calls or mail from Nayya about our products and services.

For e-mail, individuals may opt out at any time by using the unsubscribe mechanism within the email, which allows individuals to manage their subscription preferences regarding Nayya's newsletters, email alerts and special offers. This mechanism does not allow a user to opt out of receiving transactional email, such as registration confirmation, product updates and responses to direct requests.

If the information individuals have provided is made available to third parties, they will also be given the opportunity to opt out of this practice by returning to the registration site. At the time information is collected, other choices you have about how the information may be used will be explained.
